4 Winnipeggers Killed In Crash; Members Of Same Bomber Crew

FO. ALAN BROWN
Pilot

FO. W. G. HUNTER
Navigator

SGT. J. W. LEITCH
Bombardier

SGT. L. E. MORRIS
Air Gunner

Unknown to each other in their home city—destiny brought four Winnipeg airmen together as the crew of an R.C.A.F. bomber in England. When it crashed recently, the crew were killed, and the four men were buried side by side in Harrowgate cemetery, Yorkshire.

The pilot was FO. Alan Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Brown, 18 Parkholme apts. He graduated at Yorkton, after previous training at Brandon, Regina, and Fort William, and went overseas in June, 1943.

The navigator was FO. William G. Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hunter, Ste. 1, Fontana apts. He trained at Brandon, Regina, and No. 5 A.O.S.; and went overseas in June, 1943. A well-known Winnipeg druggist, he is a brother of Sqdn. Ldr. H. B. Hunter, of No. 2 Training Command, here.

The bombardier was Sgt. John William Leitch, only son of Mr.

and Mrs. J. H. Leitch, of 470 Henderson highway, East Kildonan. He was born in Winnipeg and attended Laura Secord and Kelvin schools. He was a graduate in geology at the University of Manitoba. He went overseas in September, 1943, and had completed eight or ten operations over Germany. He was employed by the Swift Canadian Co. at one time. His father, and the father of FO Brown, are fellow employees at Ashdown's.

The air gunner was Sgt. Lawrence E. Morris. Although a native of Vancouver, St. Boniface was his adopted home. His wife, the former Juliette Patenaud whom he married last August, resides at 430 de la Morenie st. Sgt. Morris joined up in June, 1941, and was stationed at No. 12 S.F.T.S. in Brandon in ground crew work. He remustered to air crew and went overseas in October, 1943. A brother Bill is serving with the R.C.A.F. in Swift Current.
